I read the settlement and I've also talked to all my friends, If this goes down there won't be anyone who thinks the government wasn't bought off. It's wrong on every level, and just the tip of the iceberg on things Microsoft has gotten away with. The fine isn't big enough and the way it's to be used will INCREASE their monopoly, and if you think it's not a monopoly, read your history books, and eight grader can tell you different!
